Course Description and Purpose

Microeconomics studies how individuals, firms and Governments make decisions in the presence of limited resources. It examines how consumers allocate their income to purchase goods and services, how firms produce and sell those goods and services, and the multiple ways in which governments can intervene.

The course will be taught using lectures, discussions, and problem-solving exercises. Students would be expected to complete several assignments throughout the course, including homework, quizzes, and exams.

The main purpose of the course is to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of the basic concepts of microeconomics. Not only that, but also to develop your decision-making and critical thinking skills about economic choices in the real world. Either microeconomics is an essential foundation in your program, or you are simple curious about it, be advised that this course can be a valuable investment in your career.

Course Goals

This course satisfies the University Core Curriculum for Social Sciences Group One (FIU required). Upon completing this course, students will be able to:

Define economic growth in terms of the production possibilities model and discuss factors thatmake such growth possible.

• Identify the operation of market forces, demand and supply and the elasticity related.

Evaluate the behavior of consumers.

• Discuss the concepts of marginal benefit and cost and marginal decision rule.

• Evaluate the competitive markets, monopoly, oligopoly and monopolistic competition.

• Describe the market demand curve for labor and discuss the factors that cause its shift, including government intervention.

Student Learning Outcomes/Objectives

Student learning outcomes allow faculty to assess the level of proficiency in content knowledge and skills that their students acquire in a course.

If the objective meets a special designation, you will see the code after the objective:

University Core Curriculum: UCC

Gordon Rule Writing: GRW

Global Learning: GL

Civic Literacy: CL

• Explain the basic premises and tools of economic thinking.

• Use economic thinking to explain choice in a world of scarcity.

Analyze how buyers and sellers interact in a free and competitive market to determine prices and quantities of goods.

- Evaluate applications of supply and demand, including price floors, price ceilings, and taxes.
- Describe the complications surrounding public goods and externalities for an economy.
- Describe and calculate elasticity and explain its consequences.
- Explain how consumer behavior shapes the demand curve with respect to utility and loss.
- If time permitting, analyze a firm's profit-maximizing strategies under conditions of monopolistic competition.
- Analyze the relationship between inputs used in production, and the resulting outputs and costs.
- If time permitting, analyze a firm's profit-maximizing strategies under conditions oligopoly and strategic behavior using game theory.
- Analyze a firm's decisions under conditions of perfect competition.
- Analyze a firm's profit maximizing strategies under conditions of a monopoly.
- Analyze the benefits and costs of international trade.
- If time-permitting, describe labor markets and the distribution of income.

Expectations of the Course

This class meets face-to-face twice a week. All sessions have a duration of 1 hour and 15 minutes. It is your responsability to review and follow the course calendar and the weekly outlines.

Attendance/Participation

Even though class attendance is not mandatory, it is strongly recommended. You will not receive credits for attending the class, however there will be in-class activities (such as short quizzes) that count toward your final grade.

Active participation in class will earn you extra points, do not miss this chance!

Course Communication

Students are expected to check their Canvas Inbox and emails on a regular basis for any class announcement.

Please use the same means of communication for asking questions outside the classroom. Be advised I will not check messages during the weekend.

Course Layout

Before each class, I will upload to Canvas the slides of the chapter we will be covering. I suggest to bring to the classroom a notebook or tablet for taking your own handwritten notes. Any comment or explanation provided during the class will not be uploaded to Canvas.

Late Assignment Policy

Check deadlines on MyLab Economics, and on Canvas to plan your submissions with enough time. Late submissions will be accepted, but penalized. There will be a 2-point deduction per day, from final score.

Make-up Policy

You must take exams on the date and time assigned. Make-up exams are not guaranteed. If you have a schedule conflict, inform me at the beginning of the semester (first week of classes) or at least two weeks before the exam. If an emergency (illness or family calimity) occurs, you have 48 hours after the exam for contacting me. In any of the cases described above, you must present valid documentation to justify your absence.

Assignments

Homework

- At the end of each chapter, you will have a homework assignment.
- Once the chapter is covered in class, you will have ONE week to submit your homework. Keep in mind due dates.
- You can work individually or in group, as long as each student submits their homework.
- You will be allowed to attempt TWO times your homework assignment. The highest score will be taken into account.
- Your TWO lowest scores during the semester will be dropped. If you miss a homework, it will be considered your lowest scored assignment and dropped right away.
- All homework will be available and submitted online, via MyLab Economics. To access your homework, click on the "Access Pearson" tab on the left panel of your Canvas page.
- Use homework as practice for exams!

Short Quizzes

- At the end of each chapter, a graded short quiz (5-10 minutes) will be taken in class to assess student's understanding.
- Depending on the pace of the class, quizzes might be a group assignment instead of individual.

- In group assignments, students will be able to check the class material and discuss answers with their peers.
- Your lowest score during the semester will be dropped. If you miss a quiz, it will be considered your lowest scored assignment and dropped right away.

Assessments

Exams

- There will be FOUR (4) exams in total during the semester: THREE (3) midterm exams and ONE (1) final exam.
- Midterms will be taken online and are open-book.
- The final exam will be taken in class and is closed-book.
- No electronics are allowed during the final exam. Cellphones, tablets, laptops, and smart watches must be turned OFF and put into a bag.
- You can use a calculator.
- Bring a pencil, an eraser and your OneCard or any other proof of your PantherID.
- You will be able to take the final exam if you arrive late as long as none student has turned in their exam.
- Any form of cheating or academic dishonesty during exams is strictly prohibited. If you are suspected of cheating during an exam, you will receive automatically a ZERO on the exam, with no option to replace the grade.

Grading

Incomplete Grade Policy Statement

A student who is passing a course but has not completed all work due to exceptional circumstances, may, with consent of the instructor, temporarily receive a grade of incomplete ("I"). The assignment of the "I" grade is at the discretion of the instructor but is allowed only if the student has a grade of at least a "C" and has completed at least 75% of the course.

Grades will be determined as follows:

Course Requirement	Weight
3 Midterms	45%
Final Exam	10%
Homework	30%
Short Quizzes	15%

Grading Scale

Letter	Range	Letter	Range	Letter	Range
А	>=90.00%	В	75.00- 79.99%	С	60.00- 64.99%
Α-	85.00-89.99	B-	70.00- 74.99%	D	55.00- 59.99%
B+	80.00- 84.99%	C+	65.00- 69.99%	F	<=54.99

I do reserve the right to be more generous if appropriate.

Please note: The syllabus is tentative and subject to change at the instructor's discretion.

Policies

As a member of the FIU community, you are expected to be knowledgeable about the behavioral expectations set forth in the FIU Student Conduct and Honor Code.

In addition, the FIU Policies and Procedures Library website serves as the official repository for university-wide policies and procedures.

Technical Requirements and Skills

One of the greatest barriers to student success is a lack of basic computer literacy. By computer literacy, we mean being able to manage and organize computer files efficiently and learning to use your computer's operating system and software quickly and easily.
