Course Description and Purpose

Introduction to the analysis of individual and firm behavior in the allocation of resources using basic microeconomic principles. The course draws on theories such as supply and demand, consumer theory, and firm theory to examine how economic agents respond to changes in prices, policies, and external conditions. Students will use evidence-based methods to evaluate theoretical models and apply these insights to various economic issues.

Course Goals

- To introduce students to the basic concepts and principles of microeconomics.
- To develop students' understanding of how individuals and firms make rational decisions in various economic situations.
- To provide students with the ability to analyze and evaluate market outcomes, resource allocation, and efficiency.
- To encourage critical thinking and application of economic principles to real-world issues.

UCC Category Description

This course satisfies the University Core Curriculum (Social Sciences + Group 2) requirement.

According to this category:

Students will demonstrate the ability to examine behavioral, social, and cultural issues from a variety of points of view. Students will demonstrate an understanding of basic social and behavioral science concepts and principles used in the analysis of behavioral, social, and cultural issues, past and present, local, and global.

Student Learning Outcomes/Objectives

Student learning outcomes allow faculty to assess the level of proficiency in content knowledge and skills that their students acquire in a course.

If the objective meets a special designation, you will see the code after the objective:

University Core Curriculum: UCC

Gordon Rule Writing: GRW

Global Learning: GL

Civic Literacy: CL

- Describe market demand by analyzing consumer behavior using basic economic principles and understand the factors that shift the demand curve, including the impact of government intervention.
- Identify the determinants of supply by understanding the relationship between inputs used in production and the resulting outputs and analyze factors in production decisions.
- Discuss the concepts of marginal benefit and marginal cost and implement the marginal decision rule in analysis of economic issues.
- Understand the supply and demand model and analyze the efficient distribution of goods and services in a competitive market.

Expectations of the Course

Students are expected to:

- review the getting started page located in the course modules;
- review the syllabus and class policies;
- take the practice quiz to ensure that their computer is compatible with the learning management system, Canvas;

- attend the classes; review and follow the course calendar and weekly outlines;
- regularly log in to the course and participate in course activities;
- submit all assignments by the corresponding deadlines.

The instructor will:

- log in to the course at least 3 times per week (Monday through Friday);
- respond to emails within 48 business hours (2 business days) - not including holidays or weekends;
- grade assignments/assessments within 7 business days of the assignment deadline.

Attendance Policy

Students are strongly encouraged to attend and participate in every lecture.

Course Communication

All announcements regarding the class (i.e., a change in the syllabus, tentative schedule, important dates, etc.) will be made in class. Hence, the instructor is not responsible for sending emails or reminders regarding dates, changes or for posting answer keys. Additional communication tool in this course is the Canvas Inbox. Check out the Canvas Conversations Tutorial or Canvas Guide to learn how to communicate with your instructor and peers using Announcements, Discussions, and the Inbox. I will respond to all correspondences within 2 days.

Late Work Policy

No late submissions will be accepted. Please plan on being able to submit with ample time to handle technical glitches. To make it absolutely clear, no late work will be accepted and due dates will not be extended. Please do not request due date extensions, as none will be given.

Make-up Policy

Excused absences include illness, serious family emergencies, military obligation, severe weather conditions, religious holidays, and participation in official university activities such as music performances, athletic competition or debate. Absences from class for court-imposed legal obligations (e.g., jury duty or subpoena) must be excused. Other reasons also may be approved. If you miss an exam due to the above reasons, it is your responsibility to contact me as soon as possible to schedule a makeup exam.

Assignments

Homework Assignments

Homework assignments can be accessed through the "Assignments" tab on Canvas course page. Assignments are to be completed and submitted online through Macmillan Achieve platform. No late submissions will be accepted. Please plan on being able to submit with ample time to handle technical glitches. For each chapter, you will have 3 assignments as explained below and they will add up to 100 for each chapter. I will drop two of the lowest weekly assignments of each student to correct for unforeseen circumstances that prevent you from submitting the homework.

Assessments

Homework Assignments (20% of overall grade)

There will be weekly homework assignments for each topic we cover, and they will be completed on Macmillan Achieve platform. The weekly sequence of assignments:

- Podcast with questions
- Adaptive quiz assignment
- End of chapter assignment

Each topic will have these 3 separate assignments and they will add up to 100 for each topic.

Exams (75% of overall grade, 25% each)

Exams are not cumulative. There will be 3 exams and they will be completed on Macmillan Achieve platform with proctoring. Please see the Course Calendar for scheduled exam dates. Exams must be completed by the due date and time, otherwise a score of "0" will be applied to that exam. There will not be any make-up exams or rescheduling of exams.

If a student has an emergency, they must contact the professor in advance of the exam. The professor may consider a make-up exam only in cases of documented and verifiable emergencies. Any requests after the exam date will not be honored under any circumstances.

Exams are not open book.

Each exam will cover the chapters noted above. Students have two (2) attempts to complete each exam. Once started, the exam must be completed in one sitting (no breaks allowed). Virtually proctored assessments are not compatible with mobile devices and should not be taken through a mobile phone or a tablet. The exam will automatically close on the due date and time, so please ensure you begin the exam with sufficient time before the deadline.

Any students found violating academic integrity and/or cheating on homework assignments, quizzes, and/or exams will receive a grade of zero on that assessment and will be reported to the FIU Office of Academic Integrity for disciplinary action.

Quiz (5% of overall grade)

This assessment is cumulative and it will be scheduled for the end of the semester on Macmillan Achieve platform. All the exam rules above apply to this assignment as well.

Note: There will be no extra credit of any kind offered to any student under any circumstances. Final scores and grades will not be rounded up.

All final grades, including plus/minus grades will be given at the sole discretion of the professor.

If you have any questions or concerns about your grade, please contact the instructor immediately. Please be proactive about your grades, and do not wait until the last minute.

Schedule

Disclaimer: The syllabus is a statement of intent and serves as an implicit agreement between the instructor and the student. Every effort will be made to avoid changing the course schedule and syllabus, but the possibility exists that unforeseen circumstances will make it necessary to make changes to the syllabus. Please remember to check your email and the course site often - at least 2 to 3 times per week.

Policies

As a member of the FIU community, you are expected to be knowledgeable about the behavioral expectations set forth in the FIU Student Conduct and Honor Code.

In addition, the FIU Policies and Procedures Library website serves as the official repository for university-wide policies and procedures.

Technical Requirements and Skills

One of the greatest barriers to student success is a lack of basic computer literacy. By computer literacy, we mean being able to manage and organize computer files efficiently and learning to use your computer's operating system and software quickly and easily.

Academic Integrity

Florida International University is a community dedicated to generating and imparting knowledge through excellent teaching and research, the rigorous and respectful exchange of ideas, and community service. All students should respect the right of others to have an equitable opportunity to learn and honestly demonstrate the quality of their learning. Therefore, all students are expected to adhere to a standard of academic conduct, which demonstrates respect for themselves, their fellow students, and the University's educational mission. All students are deemed by the University to understand that if they are found responsible for academic misconduct, they will be subject to the Academic Misconduct procedures and sanctions, as outlined in the Student Conduct and Honor Code.

Academic Misconduct includes:

Cheating

- The unauthorized use of any materials, information, study aids, or assistance from another person on any academic assignment or exercise unless explicitly authorized by the course Instructor;
- Assisting another student in the unauthorized use of any materials, information, or study aids, unless explicitly authorized by the Instructor; and
- Having a substitute complete any academic assignment or completing an academic assignment for someone else, either paid or unpaid;

Plagiarism

- The deliberate use and appropriation of another work without any indication of the source and the representation of such work as the Student's own.
- Assisting another student in the deliberate use and appropriation of another's work without any indication of the source and the representation of such work as the student's own.
